"No Fire" or Why Cessationists Are Wrong: A Short Response to John MacArthur and the "Strange Fire" Seminar E. A. Windischman

Pentecostal truth has come under fire. In "NO FIRE" or Why Cessationists are Wrong, author E.A. Windischman answers the criticisms of the speakers at John MacArthur's "Strange Fire" conference. This book clarifies the biblical teaching on spiritual gifts, and will help those seeking to understand if God is still distributing supernatural gifts today. While acknowledging abuses in the modern charismatic movement, "NO FIRE" exposes a more serious error, Cessationism - the teaching that the Holy Spirit's gifts have ceased. "While John MacArthur and the participants in the 'Strange Fire' seminar were well meaning and present some legitimate critiques of the charismatic movement, they err on one critical point, their cessationist doctrine. This book addresses this error" -E. A. Windischman "The author has taken great care to develop from scripture what can easily be understood and accepted as truth for today's believer. I encourage you to read this book, and read it more than once, opening your heart and mind to what is written in these pages" -Pastor James Bugg
